

Write an MIPS program to print all the prime factors of a number.

Write explicit function calls for the prime factor calculation.

Example: When the input is "12", then the output should be "2 2 3".